

-
- and a
- The Yj Ybhg in fiction are a UXYI d: they never actually happened. They 'happen' every time someone reads the story. For this reason, they are described in the dYgYbhYbgY"
 - "The character meets an old man who feeds him and helps him recover."
 - BUT when mentioning Yj Ybhg that happened at an YUf JYf hja Y, switch to the dUghYbgY"
 - "The narrator tells his friend what happened many years earlier."
 - If you are refer